

IAN JAMES CAMPBELL
CURRICULUM VITAE

CONTACT

Departmental Address Princeton University
 Department of Philosophy, 1879 Hall
 Princeton NJ, 08544-1006
 Cell Phone 406-381-2762
 Email ian.campbell.j@gmail.com

EDUCATION

Princeton University, MA, Philosophy, 2016; PhD, Philosophy, expected completion: 2019
 (Interdepartmental Program in Classical Philosophy).
 Dissertation: Dialectic, Demonstration, Eristic and Rhetoric: Plato and Aristotle on What is and What is not Philosophy.
 Advisor: Hendrik Lorenz

University of Montana, BA, Philosophy and Classics, 2014, with high honors.

RESEARCH INTERESTS

AOS Classical Philosophy, Environmental Philosophy

AOC Ethics

LANGUAGES

Speaking English (native); French (good command)

Reading Classical Greek, German, Latin.

PUBLICATIONS

Power, Getting What You Want, and Happiness: Gorgias 466A4-472D7. Forthcoming in Journal of Ancient Philosophy.

Paradoxology and Politics: How Isocrates Sells His School and His Political Agenda in the Busiris. Forthcoming in Classical Philology.

TEACHING

Environmental Studies 200C: The Environmental Nexus, Ethical Thought and Moral Values Track. Princeton University, Spring 2017.

Teaching assistant to Melissa Lane. Taught two precepts.

Philosophy 205: Introduction to Ancient Philosophy. Princeton University, Fall 2016.

Teaching assistant to Simon Shogry. Taught two precepts.

Philosophy 205: Introduction to Ancient Philosophy. Princeton University, Fall 2015.

Teaching assistant to Hendrik Lorenz. Taught two precepts.

Philosophy 112E: Introduction to Environmental Ethics. University of Montana, Spring 2013.

Teaching assistant to Christopher Preston.

Philosophy 110E: Introduction to Ethics. University of Montana, Spring 2013.

Teaching assistant to Albert Borgmann.

Philosophy 110E: Introduction to Ethics. University of Montana, Fall 2012

Teaching assistant to Matthew Strohl.

RESEARCH ASSISTANTSHIP

Research Assistant for Environmental Studies 200C: Environmental Nexus, Ethical Thought and Moral Values Track. Princeton University, Fall 2016.

Research Assistant to Melissa Lane. Responsible for reading selections for a new interdisciplinary course in Environmental Studies, focusing on moral issues in climate change, food and water shortages and biodiversity loss.

PRESENTATIONS

Giving Too Much of an Answer: Plato's Demarcation of Philosophy from Eristic in the Euthydemus

2nd Annual University of Chicago Graduate Student Conference In Ancient Philosophy: Argument in Ancient Thought

University of Chicago, April 7, 2017

Aristotle On Prohairesis: Eudemian Ethics II.10 1226^a17-1226^b5

Princeton University-University of São Paulo Consortium in Ancient Philosophy
Princeton University, January 21, 2017.

Aristotle's Definition of the Voluntary: Eudemian Ethics II.9

Princeton University-University of São Paulo Consortium in Ancient Philosophy
Princeton University, January 20, 2017

Aristotle on Natural Slavery

Princeton Classical Philosophy Summer Workshop

University of the Aegean. Hermoupoli, Syros, Greece. July 27, 2016.

Aristotle's Final Argument Against the Existence of the Void: Physics Δ.8, 416^a21-416^b21.
Princeton Classical Philosophy Summer Workshop
University of the Aegean. Hermoupoli, Syros, Greece. July 30, 2015.

Aristotle's Account of the Void: Physics Δ.7, 213^b30-214^a16.
Princeton Classical Philosophy Summer Workshop
University of the Aegean. Hermoupoli, Syros, Greece. July 28, 2015.

Plato's Principle of Opposites: Republic 436A8-D3
Princeton University-University of São Paulo Consortium in Ancient Philosophy.
Princeton University, January 16, 2015.

AWARDS AND FELLOWSHIPS

Princeton University Center for Human Values Political Philosophy Research Grant, 2016.

Stanley J. Seeger Fellowship, Program in Hellenic Studies, Princeton University, 2015; 2016.

Princeton University Center for Human Values Merit Grant, Princeton University, 2014-15

University of Montana President's Medal in Philosophy and Classics, 2014.

Henry and Marguerite Ephron Award for Classical Languages, 2011; 2012; 2013.

Cynthia Herbig Award in Philosophy, 2013.

SERVICE

Organizer, Princeton Classical Philosophy Greek Reading Group on Aristotle's Metaphysics Delta, Fall 2016.