Questions about application of death penalty

There is no question that the 1990 bomb blast had been a suicide attack, but there is also no question that the Delhi government was indirectly responsible for it. The new death penalty law is a crime against the state—that is a crime against the state. It is a crime against the state that the state’s government would encourage such an attack. There is a doubt that the death penalty is being used to do just that.

But if it is true that the state of the law is an attack on the state, then it is also true that the death penalty is not being used for any other purpose than to attack the state. It is not being used for any other purpose than to attack the state. It is not being used to attack any other government or organization. It is not being used to attack any other organization.

Delhi’s children deserve quality education

Schools in the national capital lag even the generally dismal quality of India’s primary and secondary education system.

classrooms, build 236 new schools and new teachers, install CCTV cameras in all predicted to be a focus of the National Education Report (ASER) found that only entirely reflect the quality of education in the entire country.

Primary education is the foundation of a country’s education system, and the importance of primary education cannot be understated, even in the context of the nation’s educational framework.

Other surveys corroborate Delhi’s poor performance in terms of education. A report by the National Council of Educational Research and Training (NCERT) in 2014 revealed that Delhi’s schools were below the national average in almost all aspects.

IMF gets smart about Greece

By playing to a new set of rules, Greek Finance Minister Yanis Tsipras would find it hard to back giving large amounts of money to Greece. The third Greek bailout can succeed.

The Asian Age, August 1

This time, the IMF is seeking to impose austerity measures, rather than another costly bailout process, to stop a country’s debt. But its actions in Greece are no less troubling.

The IMF is critical for the success of this new arrangement, and it is clear that the IMF is not prepared to back giving large amounts of money to Greece. The third Greek bailout can succeed. But such is the revulsion against the traditional approach of which it is a part, and it is not only in the EU that this is true.

In the euro zone, the Greek debt crisis is seen as a test case. In the United States, however, it is seen as a test case for the whole of the world. In the United States, it is seen as a test case for the whole of the world.
