Social Security

How would you protect Social Security for today’s seniors and strengthen it for future generations?

AARP’s Position:
Social Security should continue to guarantee that Americans who work and pay into the system receive benefits based on what they earn and contribute. Benefits should keep up with inflation and last for as long as an individual lives. We must strengthen Social Security for the future and protect benefits for people who count on them most, including surviving spouses and families, lower-wage workers, and disabled individuals who no longer can work. Social Security must be put on stable financial ground, but any adjustments should be implemented gradually so changes do not impact those in or near retirement.

Matt Moore (Dem):
“I would support legislation that eliminates the cap placed on income available for Social Security; which would add 35 or more years to the program.”

Medicare

How would you put Medicare on stronger financial ground and protect today’s seniors and future retirees from rising health costs?

AARP’s Position:
Medicare should be strengthened and improved so both current and future generations can count on having access to high-quality, affordable coverage. Medicare should continue to guarantee a specific set of benefits that are affordable and meet a person’s health care needs. Medicare should offer choices that ensure access to high-quality health care. Medicare should improve the quality, safety, and efficiency of care by emphasizing value and cracking down on fraud, waste, and abuse.

Matt Moore (Dem):
“I believe that Social Security and Medicare can be properly funded and improved without vouchers or privatization. This can be done via tax code reform, ending subsidies to otherwise profitable corporations, and by rejecting the ‘Ryan Budget’ plan.” (Source: Moore Campaign Website, http://ow.ly/zAEhd)

Financial Security

How would you help Americans save so they can secure their future and live independently as they age?

AARP’s Position:
More opportunities and incentives should be available for all Americans to plan and save so they can have a more secure future. Freedom from age discrimination is a fundamental right and critical to Americans’ ability to have a secure retirement. Every worker should be treated fairly, regardless of age. We need to support family caregivers who make it possible for more seniors to live in their homes and communities, where they want, rather than taxpayers and struggling families paying for costlier care.

Matt Moore (Dem):
I support increasing the minimum wage because it will stimulate the economy, put money in the pockets of middle class families, and help grow the economy from the bottom to the top; as it has the previous seven times it has been raised. We have tried the top to bottom (Trickle Down) theory which gave tax breaks to the top income earners while average America was left out in the cold. Now, it’s time to bring middle class America back to the forefront of national concern. (Source: Facebook, http://goo.gl/MW87NV)

Steven M. Palazzo (Rep):
One of the many pieces of legislation I have co-sponsored in an effort to curb government overreach and promote job growth is H.R. 367, the "Regulations From the Executive in Need of Scrutiny Act of 2013," or the REINS Act. This bill would require any executive branch regulation with an economic impact of $100 million dollars or more to be brought before Congress for a vote.
