

Germán Gieczewski

Department of Politics
311 Fisher Hall
Princeton University
Princeton, NJ 08540

germang@princeton.edu
(609) 258-9933
scholar.princeton.edu/germang

Education

Ph.D. in Economics, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, 2016
Lic. in Mathematics, Universidad de Buenos Aires, 2011
B.A. in Economics, Universidad del CEMA, 2009

Employment

Assistant Professor, Department of Politics, Princeton University, February 2017 –
Instructor, Department of Politics, Princeton University, August 2016 – January 2017

Working Papers

“Policy Persistence and Drift in Organizations.” (Revision requested at Econometrica)

“Lying by Omission: Verifiable Communication on Networks.”

“Partial Concessions in Wars of Attrition.”

“Electoral Competition and Term Limits.”

Work in Progress

“Bureaucratic Mobility, Economic Performance and the Poverty Trap,” with Christopher M. Li.

“State vs. Party Capacity.”

“Endogenous Learning in Organizations.”

“Enforcement in Heterogeneous Communities.”

Professional Activities

Referee: American Political Science Review, International Economic Review, Review of Economic Studies.

Invited Talks and Conferences

2018: MPSA Annual Meeting

2017: Chicago (Harris), Warwick/Princeton/Utah Political Economy Conference, MPSA Annual Meeting, APSA Annual Meeting

2016: Columbia (Political Economy)

2015: Princeton (Politics)

Conferences Attended: NBER Political Economy Program Meeting (2014, 2015, 2016), Warwick/Princeton Political Economy Conference (2016, 2017), Harvard Formal Theory and Comparative Politics Conference (2016), Chicago Harris-Emory Analytical Politics Conference (2016), Columbia Political Economy Conference (2016, 2017)

Teaching Experience

POL 502, Mathematics for Political Science (G)

POL 575, Formal Political Analysis I (G)

POL 349, Political Economy (U)